

Goldmedal launches new module in its IoT enabled, i-Touch wifi switches range

Coverage: The Asian Age

Date : November 05th, 2019

<http://bit.ly/2ML9AJD>

The screenshot shows a news article on the website 'THE ASIAN AGE'. The article is titled 'Goldmedal launches new module in its IoT enabled, i-Touch wifi switches range'. It is categorized under 'Technology, Gadgets'. The article text states: 'The range comes with support for digital assistants like Alexa and Google assistant and allows you to remotely control electrical fittings.' Below the text is an image of the Goldmedal i-Touch Wi-Fi 6 Module, which is a black rectangular device with six blue circular buttons, a fan regulator, two USB sockets, and an international socket. The article also includes a 'MOST POPULAR' section with five items: 1. Mukesh Ambani 9th richest on Forbes' real-time billionaires list; 2. Realme X2 Pro review: The best flagship killer of the year; 3. Indian startup offers Rs 1 lakh to interns for sleeping at work for 100 days; 4. Shock iPhone 12 details leaked; this is the future for Apple; 5. Shock iPhone 12 design revealed and it gives us goose bumps. The article is dated Tuesday, Dec 03, 2019, and was published on Nov 5, 2019, at 7:05 pm IST.